

Art.13 GDPR Privacy Information about

VIDEO SURVEILLANCE (CCTV)

Under the EU General Data Protection Regulation (EU GDPR), the Data Controller within the scope of the EU GDPR is obliged to inform affected parties (customers, employees, other third parties) about the video surveillance monitoring.

DATA CONTROLLER	The Data Controller is: _____, based in _____. Contact details: Email. _____ Phone. _____.
PROCESSING PURPOSE(S) AND LAWFUL BASIS	Purpose of CCTV surveillance: to detect, investigate and prosecute criminal offenses and to protect property and persons using video surveillance systems on the Company's premises. Lawful basis for processing personal data: the processing of personal data via CCTV is necessary for achieving the Company's legitimate interests, including: safeguarding its property and protecting its employees and other persons on its premises. These interests override any potential encroachment on the individual data subject's fundamental rights and freedoms. Legal foundation: Article 6(1)(f) of the General Data Protection Regulation (EU 2016/679) (GDPR)
TRANSFER OF DATA TO THIRD PARTIES	We will not transfer your personal data to third party recipients, unless you consent to such transfer of data or such transfer is permitted under applicable law.
DATA RETENTION PERIOD	Period of Storage: 72 hours (or as otherwise necessary for the purpose of surveillance)
OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE THE PERSONAL DATA	The provision of data is mandatory and is strictly instrumental to access the premises. In case of failure to provide, it is not possible to access the Company's premises.
YOUR RIGHTS	Data Subjects have the right to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• access their personal data;</li><li>• object to the processing and transfer of their personal data,</li><li>• erasure of their personal data,</li><li>• rectification of their personal data;</li></ul>

- restrict the processing their personal data; and
- lodge complaints against the Company with the competent supervisory authority.
